You will achieve

Level 3 Award in Leadership and Management (ILM)

Course Overview

The Level 3 Award in Leadership and Management is ideal for individuals who have management responsibilities but no formal training. They particularly support practicing team leaders seeking to move up to the next level of management. This course could take you from potential management material to capable and confident manager.

Effective first line management requires very particular skills and plenty of confidence. If you're an aspiring or current manager in any industry, the best way to demonstrate your capability is by certification which are internationally-recognised qualifications. What's more, if you decide to progress to the full Level 3 certificate in leadership and management, the units you've studied for the award count towards the bigger qualification.

Course Content

The course has a credit value of six and consists of a variety of units, examples are:

- Understand how to motivate to improve performance
- Understand conflict management in the work place
- Understanding stress management in the work place
- Understanding training and coaching in the work place

During this time you will be allocated a tutor who will be your personal guide, mentor and coach. They will be an expert in their field and distance learning. You can be confident that their support and help will give you every opportunity to be successful. You can contact them as often as you need. Your personal tutor will also assess the work you have to submit for your qualification. They will provide you with full written feedback.
